Dr. Paxton, however, is not at all hesitant in giving his opinion of those who have criticated the motives of his millionaire parishioner in making these gifts, particularly the close the church Extension Fund.

The Doctor is very much stirred up over some remarks made by Rev. Dr. Rainsford, of St. George's Church, in his last Surday's sertimen. Among other things Dr. Rainsford said:

"When I hear of a church, strong, influential and rich, calling a meeting for the extension of Christianity; a man who has done more to degrade and debauch the morals of business life than any other citizen, I say it is time to speak as well as to pr."

"I state the matter temperately when I say a mistake has been made which has put tens of thousands of Christian people to the blush. It is to set up a modern golden image and to say to it, 'Thou art my god."

In reply to this, Dr. Paxton asks Dr. Rainsford where the wealthy men in his congregation of the wealth, "Did they get it any more honestly than Mr. Gould or as honestly? They can't, any or them, hold up their heads or cast a stone.

"I am not defending Mr. Gould or his methods, but I do say that if Mr. Gould is a continental smasher those other men in Dr. Rainsford's congregation are peanut smashers."

During the seven years that Mr. Gould has attended his church, Dr. Paxton says he never asked nor accepted a favor of him nor received a peany of his money. Mr. Gould has a contributed largely to all the church charities. Recently Mr. Gould himself proposed to do something, and Dr. Paxton says he suggested the meeting at the Gould mansion, to which the financier assented heartily, and said he would help the church all he could.

"When I told him that we needed money for the work, as much as $10,000," says Dr. Paxton, "he replied: "You shall have it," and now, because he gave it, he is jumped on and blackgraded by those men and the news."
